Q & A

How is this Fund different from other specialist funds?

The fund has a higher than average exposure to Silver Miners over Gold Miners. This is a primary driver for Fund's performance relative to its peer group. The prominence of having overweight exposure to the Mid-Cap space rather than Large-Cap has also been a big factor.

What is your competitive edge?

The Fund is mainly invested in Mid-Cap and positive cash flow producing mining equities. The size of the fund does enable us to switch in and out of shares fairly easily at the manager's discretion whereas much larger funds can have trouble changing strategies and/or stock when the market turns. Also unlike most other Gold Funds this Fund has no South Africa exposure.

Why invest in this sector?

Gold and Silver historically have often proved to behave in a counter cyclical fashion to Equities & Bonds and therefore should be considered for reasons of portfolio diversification. Also as most of the holdings are overseas the fund acts as a hedge against any depreciation of the pound on the FX market.

What are the risks?

Like all equity funds, the value of this investment and the income from it can go down as well as up. Past performance should not be a guide to future performance as market conditions, currency and commodity price movements can affect investor returns. As a resource based fund it has higher historic volatility than most other types of funds.

Investment aims and Structure

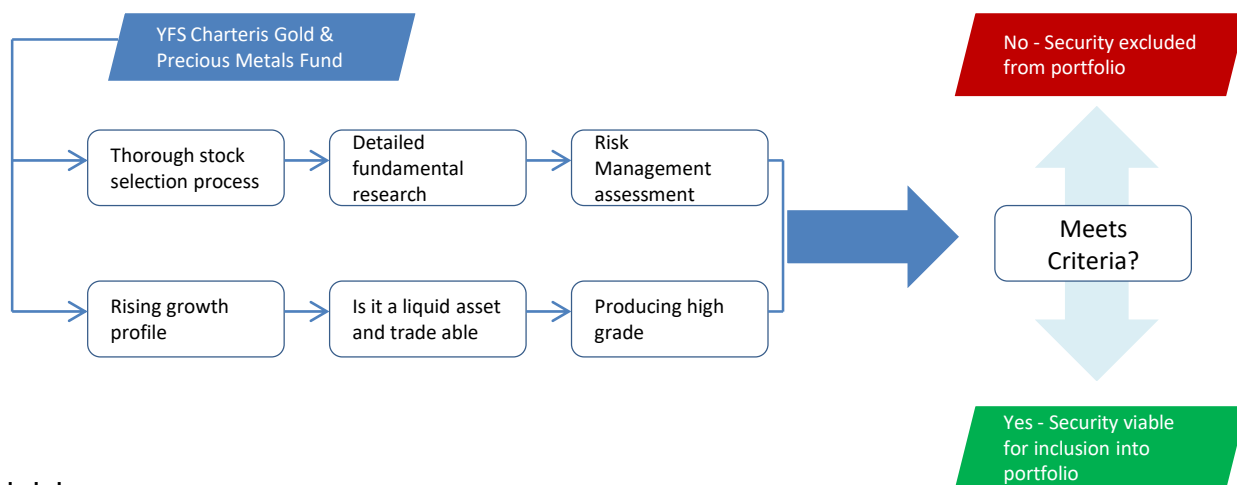

This is a UK UCITS Fund that provides investors with exposure to Gold, & Silver & other precious metal mining companies.

Bull Points

- ➔ Gold & Precious metal mining companies have the ability to pay dividends unlike Gold & Silver Bullion which yields zero.
- ➔ Historically Gold/Silver mining Shares tend to outperform Gold/Silver bullion in a bull market due to operational gearing.
- ➔ Gold & Precious metal mining companies have the potential and ability to make discoveries due to their exploration activities.
- ➔ Gold & Precious metal mining companies can be subject to merger & acquisition (M&A) activity from larger mining companies.

Bear Points

- ➔ Mines do eventually run out of ore whereas Gold Bullion remains constant.
- ➔ Mines can encounter Political & Geophysical problems such as earthquakes & adverse change of Government etc.
- ➔ Mines can have bad management which depletes shareholder value – although good management can enhance shareholder value.
